

TRACTION COMPANY IS DEFENDANT IN A $30,000 SUIT

MISS FERN LAMBLE, NURSE
AT COUNTY SANITARIUM,
CHARGES COMPANY WITH NEGLIGENCE

Fern M. Lamble, a nurse at the Outagamie county sanitarium, has brought an action against the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company to recover $30,000 for injuries which she alleges she sustained and for damages to her automobile which she charges was struck by an interurban car at the sanitarium crossing on Oct. 13, 1919. She claims she did not see the car on a count of an embankment and bushes and charges the defendant company with negligence for not maintaining proper signals. The action is brought through her attorneys, Joseph W. LeFevre of Kaukauna, and Minahan, Minahan, Minahan and Duquaine of Green Bay. The case is set for trial before a jury in circuit court next Wednesday, Judge E. V. Werner presiding. The complaint in part says:

"The plaintiff alleges that early in the afternoon of Oct. 13, 1919, she was seriously and permanently injured wholly by reason of the negligence of the defendant as herein after alleged.

"That south of the city of Kaukauna there is a road known as the sanitarium road which crosses the interurban track at right angles.

"That the plaintiff was employed as a nurse at the sanitarium which is located about one-fourth of a mile east of the intersection of such road with defendants track and that upon such day aforesaid the plaintiff was proceeding in a westerly direction and approaching said track in an approachable manner when she herself was driving. "That the plaintiff knew of the location of said track and of the probability that one of the defendant's interurban cars might be approaching at such time from either direction. That just before the track strikes such roadway it runs through a deep gully with high banks upon the east side as to effectively prevent anyone approaching car, and so also as to effectively prevent the ordinary noise or sounds made by such car from traveling towards the traveler upon such highway.

"That upon the top of such embankment the defendant negligently permitted a growth of bushes and wood of such a nature and to such an extent as to further prevent the ordinary traveling of the sound of the approach of the cars. That the situation to the south of such intersection is such that an approaching traveler can get a view of the track end of any approaching car from a position on the road before a view of the north is possible. That to add to the other dangers of this crossing the track of the defendant curves sharply to the west at a distance of about one-half mile north thereof.

Stopped Her Car
Plaintiff alleges further that upon the occasion of her approaching to the track she caused the car she was so driving to come to a complete stop at a distance of about 25 feet east of the crossing and that she at such time listened carefully for the purpose of observing customary signals which should be or the noise of the approaching car, and that she heard no noise and heard no signals.

"That thereupon she started up her car slowly and approached the track with the purpose of exercising precaution before crossing the same. That when she got a distance of ten feet from the track proceeding at the rate of about two miles per hour it became possible for her to look to the south along defendant's right of way, and that she so looked and saw the right of way clear. That thereupon the plaintiff turned to the north and as she turned to the north the defendant's car was but a short distance north of the guard rail upon such crossing, approaching at a high rate of speed.

Frightened by Whistle
"That just the instant before she saw the motorman commence blowing the whistle which is very loud and shrill. That the sudden appearance of said car going at a high rate of speed, and the sudden and shrill blowing of such whistle so frightened the plaintiff that she became momentarily powerless to exercise her faculties or to stop her automobile, and that the said automobile proceeded but a few feet upon said track where it was struck and demolished and plaintiff severely and permanently injured by the oncoming car.

"Plaintiff alleges further that such collision was occasioned solely and only through and by reason of the negligence of the defendant company in that defendant company failed to give the proper signal of the approach of the car at such a distance from the crossing as to warn possible approaching travelers. That said defendant was negligent in failing to install upon such crossing an electric signal or bell worked automatically to warn approaching travelers of a coming car.

"That defendant was negligent in failing to cut down the shoulder of ground upon the east part of its right of way north of said crossing, and which said shoulder of ground effectively prevented the traveler from seeing or hearing the approach of said car. That defendant was negligent in failing to promulgate a rule requiring motormen to approach said crossing with the car under control, so that said car could be stopped in a few feet.

"That by reason of demolishing the car of the plaintiff and of the serious permanent injuries inflicted upon her, and the loss and medical and other expenses and disfigurement, the plaintiff has been damaged in the sum of $30,000.

WOMEN PREDICT IRISH MASSACRE FOR MONDAY

Washington—Two women carrying signs asking the United States to intervene in Ireland to prevent a massacre, alleged to be scheduled to begin Monday, "picketed" the British embassy here today. Their picketing consisted in walking up and down in front of the building.

The women gave their names as Mrs. James Walsh and Mrs. Harry Walker and said they would presently be relieved by others and that the vigil would be maintained indefinitely. There were no signs of life in the embassy. The picketers attracted a crowd of about 25 people and one policeman. The signs carried by the women bore the words:

"England—American women condemn your reign of terror in the Irish republic" and "America cannot continue relations with England ruled by assassins."

The Aftermath of Flu

This is No. 1 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vick's Vapo-Rub may be of value in this condition.

Your doctor will impress upon you that following recovery from the active stage of influenza, there often remains an inflamed, congested condition of the air passages—throat, larynx, bronchial tubes and lungs. Frequently the cough hangs on—soreness of the chest persists—you take cold easily and there may be obstinate catarrh. This condition is slow to clear up and if neglected may favor the development of pneumonia, or later on, serious disease of the lungs. Such cases should continue under the care of their physician—should exercise moderately in the open air—eat plenty of wholesome food—avoid overwork and sudden chills. Nightly applications of Vick's VapoRub may help nature to complete the process of repair. Because Vicks acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition, the medicinal ingredients of Vicks are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas. Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea. Samples to new users will be sent free on request to the Vick Chemical Company, 231 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.

PRECEDENT WILL NOT STAND

The New York assembly by heavy majorities has voted to expell the five Socialists elected to that body. The assembly is the sole judge of the qualifications of its members and the expulsion therefore is final. It will be necessary to hold elections to fill the vacancies. If Socialists are again elected the same issue will present itself, and without doubt as the assembly now stands the result would be the same. If the case stands as a precedent no member of the Socialist party can sit in the New York assembly henceforward. It is closed to that party.

We cannot believe that this is the interpretation of representative government the founders of the republic had in mind when they wrote the constitution, nor do we believe it is the understanding of our political institutions held by the majority of people today. If it is, then Socialists have no right to sit in congress, no right to sit in our legislatures. More than that, to follow the reasoning advanced by Col. Theodore Roosevelt in opposing the action of the New York assembly, Socialists should be disfranchised and not permitted to vote. If they are not to be allowed to hold office they should not have the right to vote. To extend one privilege and withhold the other is inconsistent.

We believe Col. Roosevelt's attitude toward the question involved reflects the sober attitude of the country. He pointed out that the Socialist members expelled had committed no crime and were in fact charged with none. And, he continued, "we have established no case against the Socialist party." He held the record showed that during the war the Socialist party had committed no crime, while as for planning the overthrow of the government by force, "in no part of the record do I consider this to have been proved." He would convict no person on a mere "state of mind," which we believe is something no rational and unprejudiced person would do. This is the real issue. The New York assembly is moving against a party and its members because of a "state of mind." Crimes have not been established. Violations of our laws or of the constitution have not been proved. These men are barred from the assembly because the sentiment of that body abhors the tenets of the Socialist party. The country at large also abhors the tenets of the party, carried to the extremes to which they have been set up during and since the war, but so long as treason or crime is not committed, and resistance is not offered to the laws and the powers of our government, of what offense, other than moral, is it guilty?

The New York assembly has been swept off its feet by patriotic zeal. It has let its intense love of country and its impatience with those who are un-American in spirit lead it to extreme action which, to again quote Col. Roosevelt, is a "crime against representative government." It is guilty of an abuse of power never contemplated by the constitution of either the state of New York or the United States. The reaction will be helpful if anything to the cause it seeks to strike. As we have said previously, the country will not sustain it. The precedent will not stand. We shall continue to preserve representative government in the United States. We shall confine our measures against those who would overthrow it or undermine its institutions to legal processes and to the truly democratic interpretation of the constitution. We shall not destroy or abridge political freedom until it descends to that license which actually attempts or conspires to destroy us.

THE SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT

The suffragists are having a hard time of it. Lacking but one state's ratification of the amendment to the federal constitution giving women the right to vote throughout the United States to put it into effect, they have been frustrated in three instances where action by the legislature would have settled the matter. Delaware and Mississippi have rejected the amendment, while the governor of Connecticut refuses to call a special session of the legislature to make ratification possible.

As the situation now stands it does not look as though ratification would come in time for the women to participate in the presidential election, although a way may yet be found to overcome it. The women are entitled to vote. The amendment will of course be ratified, but it should be in time to take care of the November election. The women should have a voice in the choice of the next president, and if they are prevented by the politics of either party that party will be held to account for the injustice and properly so.

OUR NAVAL POLICY

The testimony which is being given before the senate committee investigating the navy's conduct of the war is not very flattering to Secretary Daniels. On top of the exhaustive criticisms advanced by Admiral Sims, which place the department in anything but a favorable light, comes the opinion of Admiral Fiske, retired, that the navy was unprepared for war in 1917 because of the "mental and temperamental characteristics of the man at its head, and of the policy he pursued as the result of those characteristics." Admiral Fiske specifies in detail the reasons for this conclusion and it must be admitted that they are deserving of consideration. He declares the navy department lacked any well prepared war plans and that it was not until almost the close of the war that it established an organization charged with the duty of making plans. He says Mr. Daniels refused to approve proposals for the extension of the navy's aerial forces or to obtain sufficient personnel prior to the outbreak of the war. In a general way Admiral Fiske coincides with the opinions of Admiral Mayo who preceded him on the stand.

Perhaps the most important part of Admiral Fiske's testimony was his opinion that the way to insure both naval efficiency and naval preparedness is for the public to insist that the man at the head of the navy "shall be imbued with the spirit of the navy, highly educated, open-minded and acquainted with the principles on which naval preparedness is based, and by following which preparedness can be secured." This is precisely in line with the suggestion we offered recently that the secretary of navy, instead of being a politician and a man selected from a calling which has absolutely no relation to national defense, should be an authority upon this subject. Mr. Daniels possesses many good qualities. He has meant well, and the performances of the navy during the war were altogether remarkable considering the handicap under which it worked and the state of its organization. We somehow got through the conflict with high naval honors in spite of the fact that from a scientific standpoint we were not entitled to. This undoubtedly was due largely to the genius of the American mind and the daring, courage and resourcefulness of our military men. If department policies, department inaction or department indecision stood in their way, they managed in some way to extricate themselves from their difficulties and to meet the exigencies of every occasion.

Nevertheless, the indictment of Secretary Daniels' administration of the naval department demands serious thought. It is an indictment of our whole national policy with reference to the navy and naval administration. We have always committed them into the hands of politicians. We have too often selected our department heads with reference to service rendered to the party rather than with reference to service expected of them for improving the efficiency of both the army and navy and maintaining our country's defense at a high standard. We need a change from this policy and the disclosures from the investigation now in progress ought to bring it about.

PACIFIC ROAD FROM MEXICO TO CANADA

Portland, Ore.—It will be possible to motor from the Mexican border to the Canadian line over the proposed Pacific highway early in September, according to officials of the Pacific Highway association.

September 20 has been set as the time for the formal dedication, when ceremonies will be held simultaneously at Blaine, Wash., close to the Canadian frontier; at the Interstate bridge between Portland and Vancouver, Wash., and at San Francisco.

The California link of this highway is the present El Camino Real roadway.

It will probably be years before the Pacific highway shall be entirely paved, but the first big goal of the association will be reached when the long road is passable for motorists the year around, and, to that end, work will be pushed this spring and summer, on the "missing links" in Oregon and Washington.

Confessions of a Bride

(Copyright, 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

Where is There a Group of Women Whose Conversation Does Not Hinge on Spiritism?

The elegance of Katherine Miller's suite and the oddness of her collection of round hand mirrors fascinated me, nevertheless, the peculiar decorative scheme was far from being the really important interest of our call that afternoon. The chat drifted naturally from the discussion of the circle as a symbol to mysticism in general.

If it hadn't drifted, I suppose somebody would have picked it up and hurled it into the talk. I'd like to know where to find a group of women whose conversation does not hinge on spiritism. It usually begins with the recital of remarkable revelations made by the spirit of a soldier. Not infrequently the poor restless ghosts have reported to their sorrowing relatives the full story of their death in action, and it is said that one wandering soul described to his mother the place where his unburied body was hidden and implored her to have his bones interred with those of his company who fell in the same charge.

Friends of soldiers who were killed in the war say that the dead communicate with the living by rapping the furniture, sometimes by means of wireless instrument, frequently through the vocal organs of a medium!

Chrys and Katherine discussed these methods—to my vast astonishment. I considered them simply silly, of course, but was too polite to say so. Finally they agreed that the ouija board is the best as well as the most popular method for getting in touch with the spirit world.

"Christobel, where can I buy a ouija board?" asked Katherine. "I've searched the shops—big and little—but the craze has taken such a hold on this town that not a ouija board is to be bought."

"What good news!" said Chrys, and I marveled, for our Chrys might be said to have the honor of reviving the cult several years ago, and I supposed she would want it to spread. She made her meaning clearer in her next sentence: "It isn't a thing to trifle with, Katherine. Communication with the dead ought not to be undertaken in a light mood, you know. Unless you go at it in the proper frame of mind, I hardly think you will get very satisfactory results."

There spoke the real devotee, said I to myself. Chrys may fool herself, but she does so unwittingly. She is sincere. She doesn't understand her subconscious mind, that's all. And if she is honest, I suppose other devotees are equally so. I noticed, however, that Chrys did not repeat to Katherine one item of information which she had long ago confided to me.

"Spiritism strains the average brain because it is so unfamiliar, so contrary to ordinary kinds of mental activity," she had asserted, but she could hardly make the statement to an aspirant for initiation such as Katherine Miller was.

"Better be careful, Katherine," I remarked. "Didn't you read the other day that five residents of a town in California had lost their minds over the ouija board?"

"Yes, I did," she replied. "Another news item says that the village council of an eastern burg has forbidden the merchants to sell ouija boards! Some bad, isn't it? Why, the dealers told me that the factories are doubling their capacity and in about six months the retailers may catch up with the orders. I don't think that long for a board. Christobel, haven't you an old one you could lend me?"

"Perhaps I have, but please don't go into this just for fun," pleaded Chrys.

"You know, Katherine, that everybody isn't fitted to receive spirit messages," said I. "Why, the controls simply scorn me, and the pointer stalls on the board whenever I come within ten feet of the table!"

"It isn't a toy," said Chrys impatiently. "It was in the beginning—just a child's alphabet. I reminded her. 'By the way, Chrys, what does the queer name mean?'"

"Odd of you to miss it, Jane! It's merely a combination of words meaning 'yes' from two foreign languages, the first from the French, the second from the Dutch." Then she turned to Katherine with:

"I've a half-dozen boards. It's hard to part with any one of them, for the 'controls' have tabs, you know."

RENT STRIKE CONSIDERED

New York.—The rent strike may be the tenants' chief weapon against profiteering landlords in New York.

Threat to strike against exorbitant rents has been made in scores of communities, following a tryout of the plan in Jersey City and Newark, N. J., where, as has been the case in practically every city in the country, unheard of prices have been charged for rooms, flats, apartments and houses in the midst of the most acute shortage of housing facilities the nation has ever faced.

Data gathered by the United Press indicates, underlying causes for high rentals, as given by responsible real estate dealers, are:

1. Unprecedented slump in building, accentuated by shortage of labor and building material and aided by increased prices, for both.

2. Flow of population toward the city, in anticipation of high wages and an easier living. Thousands of persons drawn to industrial centers during the war have stayed in the cities, going into other lines of work.

3. The appearance of thousands of speculators, seeing chance, to prey on the many home-seekers and their renting of all available apartments, outfitting them with cheap furnishings and then re-renting at enormous prices.

New York's fight against rent profiteering has already been started by joint attack by Mayor Hylan and the Central Federated Union. The mayor announced he will confer with Commissioner James F. Gannon of Jersey City relative to Gannon's method of handling the rent strike.

The Central Federated Union, through Secretary Ernest Bohm, has decided to ask introduction into the legislature of a bill protecting the rights of tenants and making eviction impossible where eviction is threatened by refusal to pay exorbitant rents.

It was estimated here the rent had increased on an average of from 60 to 250 per cent. Simple and unpretentious quarters in poorer sections of the city, where not even all the ordinary conveniences were not afforded, have been charged for at from $25 to $35 a month, the same flat bringing from $9 to $12 four years ago.

Rents in more desirable sections of the city have soared from $45 to $50 for the average 4-room apartment with the usual convenience, to $100 to $250 a month. Electricity and gas are invariably charged for extra.

City officials recently estimated there is at present a shortage of 20,000 dwellings, 50,000 apartments and 10,000 rooms in Greater New York. Erection of this number, or a substantial portion of it, they agreed, would be the only remedy for high rental in the city.

DRY AMERICA NOW TAKES MORE COFFEE

New York.—Coffee consumption in the United States has increased 25 per cent since the country went dry, according to a statement given out here by a committee of coffee dealers incident to the opening of the coffee week today.

An average of 12½ pounds of coffee a cup a day for every man, woman and child in the United States, is given as the actual consumption.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Friday, March 5, 1895.

Robert Green was ill with pneumonia.

Miss Caddie Dezottell was home from Milwaukee for a few days.

Miss Selma Hammel returned from Milwaukee, where she had been visiting her brother, Attorney Leopold Hammel.

Attorney T. H. Ryan and Elmer Crider were among the most recent purchasers of Yale bicycles.

D. W. Dean Company's cheese warehouse was badly damaged by fire, which was supposed to have started from a spark from a passing locomotive. Manner and Renner's planing mill was also damaged by fire to the amount of $1,200.

A telegram received by the university authorities from the officers in charge of the United arsenal at Springfield, announced that the guns for the cadets of the military department would not be ready for shipment for some time.

The repairs that had been under way at the Howard paper mill at Menasha for several weeks, were about completed. The mill was to start up in fifteen days, but the kind of paper it was to manufacture had not been determined.

Prof. W. D. Gibson, a member of the Ryan High school faculty, was elected vice president of the Northeastern Wisconsin Teachers' association at the annual convention at Neenah. Among the Appleton teachers who took part in the program were Principal M. J. Burke, Miss Bertha Strong and Miss Rose Silverfrid.

A leak in the gas main at the corner of College avenue and Appleton street had just been repaired. It had existed all winter and the ground below the frost line had become so saturated with gas that the odor was apparent in cellars for the distance of a block.

H. W. Russell and Bert Brown were elected president and treasurer respectively of the Christian Endeavor Society at the convention at Sheboygan.

THE PASSER BY

True wit is nature to advantage dress'd.
What off was that, but n'er so well express'd.

There are no flies on Herbie J. T. G.: Is the coming campaign to be one of poetry? The query is impelled by the presentation in a local contemp of some verses from a New York daily which speak of "Herbie" Hoover and recall some of the "bright" productions in the same line during the campaign of 1888. The New York Sun came to the front with this convincing argument:

There are no flies on Grover.
There are no flies on Grover.
On little boy Ben there are nine or ten.

But there are no flies on Grover. Thereupon the Indianapolis Journal shot back this scintillating scintillation:

There are no flies on Harrison.
There are no flies on Harrison.
Big boy Grover is covered all over.
But there are no flies on Harrison.
History tells us Ben mopped up. I have always credited his victory to the Journal poet.

That ho-hum which we placed in the cold frame a few weeks ago has already sprouted, and there seems to be a tiny bud appearing. It is expected that it will be in full bloom in the near future.

CHILDREN TAKE OVER FARM WHEN PARENTS DIE

The nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nieland of Black Creek, who died last month, have decided to run the farm of 160 acres which their parents left them. Albert Nieland, one of the oldest sons, who had been working at a neighbor's for several months, has returned home to assist in the work. The running of the home will devolve upon the older daughters, who have already assumed the responsibility. It is the general belief of relatives and neighbors that the children will be equal to the task and that they will be able to keep the homestead intact. Mrs. Nieland died about three weeks ago and her husband passed away at St. Elizabeth hospital last Friday following an operation.

Here's Proof of My Opinion —

Did you ever wonder how Jack Dempsey's manager felt when he saw Willard take the count? That's just the way I feel about the scrappy little Hart-Parr 30 Tractor. I am local manager of "The Tractor Champion."

At every official Hart-Parr test ever entered, it has developed more than its rated horse-power and . . .

At the greatest tractor test of all time, held by Ohio State University, it developed 26.5 Drawbar Horse-power . . . handing the tractor world an uppercut and proclaiming itself the tractor champion—(all weights included).

I selected the Hart-Parr 30 because, to the best of my knowledge, it offered the greatest tractor value per dollar, on the market—because it was backed by 19 years' experience in tractor building—because it was simple—its working parts easily accessible and its construction sturdy.

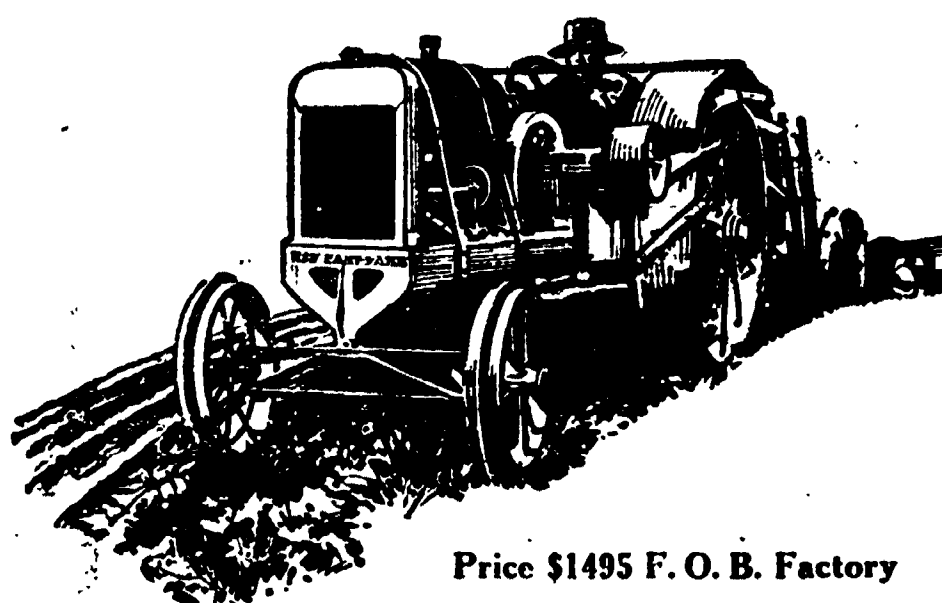

Proof of my opinion lies in the performance of the Hart-Parr 30 in official tests and on the farms of Hart-Parr 30 owners.

Call and examine the "Tractor Champion" and let us take you out where one is working in the field.

MUD HOLE ON FRENCH ROAD MIREN TRUCKS

One mud hole on the French road near the Joosten and Oudenhoven farms is giving motorists and teamsters considerable trouble. Yesterday one of the Standard Oil company's trucks became mired at this point during the morning, and all efforts to remove it had failed up to a late hour in the afternoon. A farmer hauling a load of grain attempted to pass the truck and also found himself in the same plight. Two teams were used to extricate him. To prevent a trip of the rural mail delivery, Arnold Petting, carrier of route six, was piloted through the danger zone by the teams which were serving on relief duty. It is said that this portion of the road has a quick sand bottom making it dangerous for traffic until it dries up.

VALLEY PAINTERS ARE ASKING MORE MONEY

Painters in some Fox river valley cities are asking for higher wages. At Neenah they have been granted 75 cents an hour by the master painters, which is an increase of 15 to 20 cents. It is stated that at Fond du Lac they are demanding 90 cents an hour, an increase of 50 per cent over the previous scale. Master painters there are endeavoring to satisfy the men with a 25 per cent increase.

however, which would come to about 75 cents an hour. At Oshkosh there is also a controversy, the painters demanding 75 cents, and the employers offering 70.

WINTER PAYS RETURN
VISIT TO APPLETON

BLIZZARD CATCHES MISS SPRING
UNPREPARED—WESTERN STATES COVERED WITH SNOW.

Miss Gladstone Spring was driven to shelter this morning when Old Man Winter, with 12 cylinders working, dashed through Appleton on a return visit, leaving a cold blast in his wake. His return to the place where he had spent many weary months was unheralded and caught Miss Spring and her attendant, Robin Redbreast, unawares.

The weather bureau yesterday predicted unsettled weather and colder for today but he failed to say anything about a blizzard. The storm struck Minnesota and the Dakotas late yesterday afternoon, interrupting train service and hampering wire communication. The ground was covered with about three inches of snow this morning.

Reports from Wisconsin cities indicate that the storm raged with fury early this morning. It is headed eastward and warnings have been sent ahead to be prepared.

Train service here was not interrupted, despite the high wind and snow fall. Trains up until noon were running on schedule.

Sets New Record

St. Paul.—An April blizzard brot the total winter's snow fall above all previous records here today.

Driven by a 35 mile wind the snow swirled all night and there was no prospect of it letting up late this afternoon.

Up to noon the weather bureau estimated the fall at four inches. This would bring the total fall for the winter to 74.7 inches.

The previous record for one winter was hung up in 1896-97 when 72.4 inches fell. In 1916-17 the fall was 71.2 inches.

Temperature fell throughout the northwest but most snow fell in Minnesota. The Dakotas were swept by rain, sleet and cold winds.

Temperature Falls

Zero weather was recorded in Canadian points. In St. Paul the temperature at 9 o'clock was 12 above.

Trains were delayed from 30 minutes to six hours on practically all lines. Telegraph and telephone communication was hampered.

Reports reaching here said the Mesaba iron range, in the northern part of the state was in the grip of the most severe blizzard in years. Heavy snowfall driven by a forty mile gale was reported.

PASSAGE OF IRISH
RULE BILL ASSURED

EASE WITH WHICH LLOYD
GEORGE SMASHED OPPOSITION
STIRRED POLITICAL OBSERVERS

By Ed L. Keene
His United Press Licensed Wire

London.—The government has passed its last obstacles in efforts to assure passage of Prime Minister Lloyd George's new bill on home rule in Ireland, officials close to the prime minister said today.

"They quoted the prime minister as expressing complete satisfaction with the parliamentary situation and believing final passage of his bill was certain."

"Everybody was astonished at the ease with which the prime minister disposed of Asquith and Lord Cecil whose opposition the coalitionists had feared most," one official declared.

It was the opinion in political circles that Asquith as leader of the opposition party had failed in his efforts to break the ranks of the coalitionists even with Lord Cecil's cooperation.

The appointment of General Nevil Macready to be head of the military forces in Ireland and the resignation of Ian MacPherson, Irish secretary of the prime minister's cabinet, were pointed to as proof that the government intends to carry through its Irish program without hesitation.

The government, in the opinion of well informed observers, was prepared to "go the limit" to make the prime minister's plan a success, even erecting a barrier of bayonets between Ulster and the Sinn Fein districts if necessary.

A report that Lloyd George and MacPherson had received messages threatening their lives could not be confirmed in Downing street.

TRAFFIC POST AGAIN
MEETS WITH DISASTER

Appleton's silent cop that keeps College avenue traffic at the Oneida street corner out of a tangle had the "daylights knocked out of him" last night shortly after eleven o'clock. This morning the fragments of his physical makeup lay scattered over the pavement, and his lamp was darkened for good.

F. W. Krueger of Menasha was not aware that a safety turn must be made at the corner, and cutting the curve with his car drove squarely into the post with disastrous results. Little damage was done to his car, however. He presented himself to the police station explaining his horrible treatment to this member of the force. The desk sergeant took his name and let him proceed home.

Miss Agnes Roemer, stenographer in the County Highway Commission office, left for Akron, O., where she will spend a two weeks' vacation.

U. S. AND CHINA ARE ONLY BIG POWERS NOT IN NATION LEAGUE

UNCLE SAM WAS ONLY ONE OF THE ORIGINAL NINE NOT AT FIRST ORGANIZATION MEETING

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Washington, D. C.—The United States of America and China are now the only two governments of any consequence in the world, eligible to membership in the League of Nations, which have failed to join.
A total of 34 nations now compose the league. Of these, 22 are original signatories of the Treaty of Peace and have, by ratification of the treaty, accepted membership in the League of Nations.
Twelve other nations, which were neutral during the war, invited to join the league under the provisions of the treaty, have signified their intention to accept such membership. Venezuela is the only country so invited which has not yet acted.

United States Only Absent
Nine nations were named in the covenant itself to compose the first council of the league. The United States was the only one among the nine which was absent. The four other permanent members of the council—Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan—were represented as were also the four specially designated temporary members—Belgium, Brazil, Greece and Spain.
The second session of the council opened in London, March 11.
Although the former Central Powers and Russia are excluded from membership the league already represents a considerable part of the population and area of the earth.
The nations already in the league have an area of 21,987,130 square miles. The area of nations not in the league is 17,898,340 square miles. The population of the nations in the league is 798,695,000; the population of the non-member nations is approximately 865,000,000.

China, with its 4,300,000 square miles of territory and 400,000,000 population, and the United States, with its 3,026,788 square miles, and its 102,500,000 population are the two big countries on the non-member side.
The addition of the United States and China to the league would almost double the population represented in the league councils, reducing the population outside the league to 362,000,000.

WOMAN IS GROUNDKEEPER OF TWO BASEBALL PARKS

When Husband Tenders Resignation as Tender of Pirates and Red Sox Park, Wife Takes Up Reins and Proves Good Boss.

(By Fred Turbyville.)
(Special to Post-Crescent.)
Hot Springs, Ark.—There aren't any lazy bones in the Otto Wilhelm family. No sir-ee. Otto works and so does Mrs. Otto. Mrs. Otto isn't a stenographer, saleslady, or manicurist. She's the groundkeeper of two baseball parks.
For seven years Otto tended the baseball diamond for the Boston Red Sox and the Pirates and then he got a job as groundkeeper at the Hot Springs Golf Club—an all-year job and a better paying one. This spring the baseball men couldn't induce Otto to come back. They searched high and low for a capable man and could find none. They went back to Otto and asked him and he reckoned that "Mayme" could boss the job as well as anyone else, and so Mayme is out there bossing the groundkeepers and Ed Barrow and George Gibson say she's satisfactory, and that's some commendation, coming from baseball managers.
Mrs. Wilhelm learned how from her husband. She used to help him out in the rush season. She doesn't do much of the work, of course, but she tells the boys how to do it and they say she is a good boss, though an exacting one.
The infielders at Whittington Field and Fordyce Park, the former the stadium ground of the Red Sox, and the latter used by the Pirates, are in perfect shape. Mrs. Wilhelm goes over the ground carefully every morning and picks all the loose pebbles from the infield.
The veteran ball players know her and she knows them. She is quite a fan and eagerly watches the Red Sox and Pirates at work.
"Who will win the pennants?" was asked her.
"That's easy," she said. "They're both working out here—the Red Sox and Pirates."

DANISH WORKMEN ARE LEAVING THEIR JOBS

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
Copenhagen.—While the general strike, called in protest against the king's action in dismissing the cabinet of Premier Zahle was not to go into effect officially until next Tuesday, many workers had begun to walk out today.
The strike was expected to be fully effective by Friday. Otto Liebe, the new premier, said Zahle had promised him to try to prevent the strike, according to the newspaper Politiken.

SANITY OF TAMMANY HALL HEAD QUESTIONED

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
West Palm Beach, Fla.—Richard Croker, one time Tammany boss, was to be examined by alienists today following the issuance of a temporary injunction by the Palm Beach county court prohibiting him from transferring or disposing of his property.
The injunction was granted on petition of Croker's two sons and daughter who claimed he was mentally incompetent and was being unduly influenced by his present wife.
The Croker children plan to ask for appointment of a guardian. The value of Croker's estate is estimated at $10,000,000.

CINCY REDS HAVE SAME LINE-UP FOR PENNANT BATTLE

WORLD CHAMPIONS BATTLE FRONT FOR COMING SEASON IS LATEST WILL REPEAT

(By Tom Swope)
(Special to Post-Crescent)
Miami, Fla.—The same lineup which defeated the Chicago Sox in the eighth and deciding game of the 1919 world series will be sent against the Cubs in Cincinnati's opening game of this year, April 14, unless accidents necessitate a change.
There may be a different battery for the Reds in this year's opener, but that's the only place that Moran is likely to change his batting order from that of 1919.
Moran considers the team that won the world championship good enough to use in the fight for another pennant and he has kept his ball club intact.
Eight new youngsters are south with the champions and several of them are likely to stick through the season.
But they have only a slight chance of winning a regular job away from the members of last year's team.
Young Tom Casey from the "Frisco" is a likely looking catcher. He may take Nick Allen's place as third baseman for Moran, but it's more than likely that Allen will be retained and Casey planted in a minor league.
Sam Crane, up twice before with Washington and Cincinnati, is a fielding star and will remain with the Reds as utility infielder unless one of the regulars is hurt.
Goldie Flep, another dandy infielder, probably will be kept all the season. He is a Cincinnati boy and worked out with the Reds last summer. Moran sent him to Beaumont, Tex., for the balance of the season and recalled him. Goldie is a real ball player.
Three young pitchers are being given the once over in classy training camp of the champions here by Moran. They are Clarence Steers of Springfield, Mass., and formerly of the Argonne and other battlefields; Edmund Walters, a mite of a lad from Buffalo, N. Y., and Linwood Smith of Portsmouth, Va. Walters is a southpaw. The other two throw right-handed. Classy work for semi-pro teams earned them their right to wear the Cincinnati uniform this spring, but all of them probably will be farmed out later on. Smith has a chance to stick, but not to do much pitching. For the Reds, as Kid Gleason found out, have more good pitchers than any other club.
Dick Loftus, a sprightly looking outfielder, who played in Moran's hometown of Pittsburg, Mass., last summer, is here. All the Fitchburg fans told Pat to grab him. Pat did and he appears a promising lad. Dick hits left-handed and so does Charley See, the kid for whom the Reds paid Rochester $10,000 last summer. Pat would prefer a young outfielder who can bat right-handed as his team is long on southpaw hitters. But See will stick—he's showing great improvement over last summer—and Loftus may.

Joe Meyer, a Cincinnati boy, is trying to show Pat he should be retained as Jake Daubert's understudy. Joe played ball at Notre Dame and says he'll not remain in baseball if he can't become a big leaguer very soon. He was planted in the minors by Moran last summer and went very well.
When the Reds arrived here March 7 Eddy Roush, Heinie Groh, Hod Eller and Jake Daubert were unsigned, but all are lined up now.
Larry Kopf and Morris Rath are early showing promise of becoming in improved keystone pair. If they to the Reds should walk in.
So far no signs of swell-headedness have appeared. All the critics and other wise men agree that is the only "hinz" that can keep them from repeating in the National League this year.
The Reds have pitched in and worked hard to prepare themselves for a long string of exhibition games with Washington, which they feel will get them right on edge for the regular season.
They held out for big salaries, at least most of them did, and will be the best paid ball club this season in the history of the game. They know they must deliver another pennant to earn their pay, and say they will do it.

BROKERAGE FIRM GETS CORNER ON AUTO STOCK

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
New York.—The Allen Ryan brokerage company today announced it would purchase any stock of the Stutz Motor Company offered for sale.

Trading in the stock on the New York exchange was suspended by the board of governors because it was alleged Allen A. Ryan, a member of the exchange, had "cornered" 80,000 shares of the 100,000 outstanding shares of Stutz. The action of the company in offering to purchase any outstanding stock was taken to protect owners against loss.
The Consolidation Exchange today also barred its members from trading in Stutz stock.
At the opening today a number of outside houses were making a nominal market in Stutz, bids ranging from 270 to 380 and offerings from 420 to 425. No sales were reported.

SHIPLOAD OF BABES DRIFTS NORTHWARD

SOVIET GOVERNMENT OF RUSSIA APPEALS TO ENGLAND TO RESCUE STARVING CHILDREN.

London.—Pitiful calls came over the wireless from Moscow tonight, pleading for the rescue of the steamship Solovet, reported drifting beyond the arctic circle with eighty women and children among its starving passengers.
The ship's wireless got through a message from Capt. Budimirvitch stating that there is no food left on the vessel, which is drifting into Kara bay, north of Siberia, near the Russian-Siberian boundary.
Locked in All Winter.
The Solovet was locked in the ice all winter in the River Chiga, which crosses a peninsula several hundred miles westward of the present position.
On Jan. 24 the ice began to move out and the ship struck northeastward, passing south of Kolguev island and presumably through Kara straits. The ship's coal was consumed in the passage and it is reported to be burning barrels for heat.
Reds to Pay Cost of Rescue.
The Moscow wireless suggests that the most suitable ship for the rescue cruise would be a staunch ice breaker which the British now hold.
The soviet government promises to defray all costs if the British will send the ice breaker to the rescue.

NAVY NOT PREPARED IN ANY WAY, WITNESS SAYS

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington.—As a result of the navy's policy of "indifference" it was "not prepared in any respect" when war was declared, Rear Admiral William F. Fullam, retired, declared at the senate naval inquiry today. "Disaster" was avoided only because the German and Austrian fleets were bottled and because the chief naval powers were on the Allies side, he said. Fullam commanded the Pacific reserve fleet during the war.

Mother! Teach the Children Their Daily Health Duty

You can't be too insistent!

FEW children find pleasure in the things most vital to their physical comfort and health, so it rests with the watchful mother to see that they are done. The child will be grateful in after years.

Chief among the functions necessary to the upbuilding of the little body, so that it will not be a dyspeptic, constipated body when it matures, is elimination regularly every morning. If the mother will be insistent and allow nothing to interfere with it, it will soon become a habit, a daily routine that will not be forgotten throughout life.

There are times, however, when nature will not operate unaided. Then give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, and the bowels, the biliousness, the torpor will quickly disappear. It acts gently and without griping, and as it contains no narcotics and is pleasant to the taste, it may be given to infants. Thousands of families have been regulated to healthy maturity with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

A bottle can be bought at any drug store. In a large family there is always someone who would feel better for a dose of a good medicine like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois.

COAL COMMISSION THAT SPLIT ON WAGE QUESTION

Left to right: Secretary of Labor Wilson and the three members of the Coal Commission, James P. White, Henry M. Robinson and Rembrandt Peale. Robinson representing the public and Peale representing the operators, have submitted a report to President Wilson recommending a general wage increase of approximately 25 per cent. White, representing the miners, refused to concur and is preparing a minority report, in which, it is said, he will favor a seven-hour day and a wage increase of approximately 35 per cent.

GOTHAM GANG CHIEF IS KILLED IN BED

TWO NEW YORK GUNMEN MEET
TRAGIC DEATHS YESTER-DAY—WOMAN HURT
IN ATTACK

New York.—The murder of Dennis L. Meehan, described by the police as "the most desperate gang leader in Brooklyn," the shooting and killing of "Red Dan" Houlihan, a youthful gunman, as he and three unidentified companions were fleeing in a taxicab from a policeman in the Greenwich village section, on the lower west side, and several holdups and assaults of citizens with blackjacks, were outstanding criminal incidents on Wednesday.

Meehan was shot through the head and killed Wednesday afternoon as he slept beside his wife, Sadie, in their home in Brooklyn, by one of five gunmen who fired five shots at the sleeping couple. The bullet passed through the head of the gang leader and then lodged in the shoulder of his wife, who was removed to the Brooklyn hospital in a serious condition.

The shooting of Meehan is believed by police to be the outcome of the gang leader's activity in supplying strikebreakers to the United Fruit company on piers on the Hudson and East river, who recently walked out when their demands for more pay were refused.

"Red Dan" Houlihan, a member of the notorious Gopher gang on the lower west side, was killed by Police-man Abraham Martling after the policeman detected him and his three companions in the act of stealing two bags of bread and three cans of milk from in front of a grocery store at 5 o'clock in the morning.

The policeman fired two shots at the youths as they were escaping from him in the taxicab, but it was not until "Red Dan" was found dead in the abandoned taxicab an hour later that the policeman knew that any of his shots had found a mark.

FORTUNE AWAITS RACINE WORKMAN

FORMER POLISH NOBLEMAN NOTIFIED HE IS HEIR TO $1,000,000 TO BE PAID BY GERMANS.

Racine, Wis.—A fortune of from $800,000 to $1,000,000 is to be received by Albert Broel-Plater, a former Polish count, now employed by the Ajax Rubber company of this city, if reports received by him from attorneys of Chicago, New York and Washington are true, and Broel-Plater is confident that they are.

The money is to be paid by Germany because of devastation of lands and buildings owned by Broel-Plater's father, when Germany invaded Poland in 1914.

At the outbreak of the war Broel-Plater's father died suddenly. The son enlisted in the Russian cavalry, while his mother and sister escaped to France, where the mother died and the sister was drowned while aboard a steamer torpedoed by a German submarine.

Broel-Plater was twice injured while in service and was taken by the Germans as a prisoner. He made his escape to Switzerland and then came to the United States, locating at Lansing, Mich.

When this country entered the war Broel-Plater offered his services and was sent to training school at Fort Sheridan, later going to Washington, where he was employed by the war department with rank of first lieutenant. When the armistice was signed, Broel-Plater returned to Lansing, there entering the employ of a manufacturing concern as a machinist and perfected a device for an improvement on a gasoline tractor.

Came to Racine. Four months ago Broel-Plater came to Racine, the home of tractors, and obtained employment with the Racine Rubber company as a clerk. Since his arrival here he has obtained a patent on his invention and having received word that he will be paid for damage done his father's property by Germany, proposes to erect a factory here as soon as he received first payment.

Broel-Plater was last Friday notified as a member of the Racine Lodge of Elks and the following day he received information from attorneys as to the allowance of his property claim. He is 30 years old and unmarried.

ELEVEN CANDIDATES FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Rhineland, Wis.—Eleven persons, five women and six men, have filed papers and are candidates for election to Rhineland's first elective school board to be voted upon in the April election. The board has been appointed by the mayor for years, but a movement fostered by the labor union to have the system changed to the elective, won in a special election held here last month. Nine members have held office till now, each ward in the city being represented. Seven members will now comprise the body, all of whom will be elected at large. But five of those on the present board are running for reelection.

ASKS FOR UNION OF NEENAH AND MENASHA

Menasha, Wis.—In an address here ex-Mayor Joseph Hill stated that the chief object of the Menasha Chamber of Commerce should be to effect the union of Neenah and Menasha. Sentiment in favor of the uniting of the Twin Cities appears to be gradually growing in favor and the day may not be far distant, those who favor the change say, when that "imaginary boundary line" may be wiped out.

NO CAMPAIGN AND NO MONEY, M'ADOO SAYS

PRESIDENT'S SON IN LAW WOULD LIKE TO SEE CAMPAIGN BOOKS OPENED FOR INSPECTION

Washington, D. C.—William G. McAdoo is more positive than ever that he is not a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in a statement sent to the Plumb Plan league today in response to inquiries about campaign expenditures.

Mr. McAdoo insists that he has had no campaign expenses because he has no campaign, that he will spend no money between now and convention time, and is, in fact, not a candidate.

What might be expended after convention time Mr. McAdoo does not discuss. He recommends the most stringent laws against corrupt use of money.

Wants Drastic Laws

Replying to a request that he join in an appeal to congress for legislation compelling all candidates to file sworn statements of primary expenditures, Mr. McAdoo said that he would, Senator Robert L. Owen, Oklahoma, an avowed candidate for the Democratic nomination, replying to the league's queries, said:

"As far as I know my campaign is in the hands of the delegates appointed by Oklahoma to the San Francisco convention. I understand they intend to ask citizens friendly to the candidacy in the different counties in Oklahoma to make up a sum sufficient to provide the means of publicity."

Small Sums Expended. The amounts expended, as far as I know, would probably not exceed $4,000 or $5,000, and I think not so much as that. It was the opinion of some of my friends that they should raise as much as $50,000 for publicity."

"I am willing to join an appeal to congress that would compel all candidates to make sworn returns."

CARROLL RETIRES FROM POLICE WORK AFTER LONG SERVICE

MERCHANT POLICEMAN GIVES UP THE WORK TO RETIRE IN HIS LITTLE FARM IN FOURTH WARD

After nearly 35 years of police duty, Dennis Carroll, 624 South River street, has retired from the service and will devote his time hereafter to his little truck garden of about one and one half acres. Mr. Carroll, who is 67 years old, has just recovered from a two months' illness but his health does not permit him to continue in the work to which he devoted more than half of his life. He is one of the best known men of Appleton and carries with him into retirement the good wishes of the many men and firms he has served. He is making his home with his daughter, Miss Genevieve Carroll, who is a teacher in the Fourth ward kindergarten. Mrs. Carroll died only a few months ago.

Mr. Carroll would have completed thirty-five years as a police officer if he had remained on duty until April 13. The first two and one half years of his service on the force were spent as a patrolman, with assignment to any duty. He was then given the position of merchant police with the special duty of guarding the downtown business section, a position he held until his retirement from the city police force on a pension four years ago. Since that time he has been a deputy sheriff and special night watchman, his territory including five blocks on College avenue. He was paid from a fund established by merchants and bankers whose property he guarded against burglaries. While he was a member of the police force part of his salary was paid by these same men.

The story of Mr. Carroll's connection with the police force is the story of Appleton's development and of the changes made by time. Only nine of the firms and institutions on College avenue when Mr. Carroll took up his work thirty-four years ago are still in existence. They are A. Galpin Sons, then known as Galpin Brothers; C. F. Smith; David Brett; Schenck Bros.; Heisterkamp Company; First National bank; Pettibone-Peabody company; K. F. Keller and Sons; Schlafer, Barrett and Tesch, now two firms, and the Post publishing company.

Mr. Carroll figured in several interesting arrests in his 34 years but only once was he injured in a fight with thugs. This one injury was received seven or eight years ago in a fight with three would-be burglars back of the Pettibone-Peabody store. Mr. Carroll had two of the men under his control when he was struck on the head by the third thug who Bids or proposals will be received for paving the above described streets with a permanent pavement having concrete foundation, with a wearing surface of the following described kinds of accepted city pavements, to-wit: Concrete, brick and asphalt.

The kind of pavement to be selected by the council after the bids or proposals are received and costs determined. All to be in accordance with the plans and specifications heretofore adopted by the council, and now on file in the city clerk's office, in the city hall, city of Appleton, Wisconsin.

The persons or parties making bids or proposals, shall furnish the same on proposal or contract blanks, prepared by the Board of Public Works, and no bid will be considered which is not accompanied by a bond contract with sureties as prescribed by the forms so furnished and as provided by the laws of this state; complete with the exception of signatures on the part of the city. The bond to be in the sum of thirty (30) percent of the bid or proposal. Blank copies of such form of bid or proposal and contract can be obtained from the city clerk, Appleton, Wisconsin, by the persons desiring to bid. Given at the office of the Board of Public Works, Appleton, Wisconsin, this 4th day of March, 1920.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.
E. L. Williams, City Clerk.

OFFICIAL SEWER NOTICE.
Notice is hereby given to all persons owning lands, lots or fractions thereof, fronting or abutting on the following described streets and avenues, that sewer has been ordered built in and along said streets, and you and each of you, are hereby notified to cause said sewer built, according to plans and specifications on file in the office of the city clerk, within thirty (30) days from date of this notice, or same will be built by the city and a portion of the expense thereof charged to the abutting property:

Mason street, from south line of C. & N. W. Ry. south 710 ft.;
Rogers avenue, from Mason to Outagamie street, from Rogers avenue south 1069 ft.;
Pine street, from Outagamie to Carver street;
Carver street, from Pine street south westerly to angle in street where same runs sewer.

(Dated March 4th, 1920).

came up from behind. All three were later captured and hauled into court.

Fearless Officer.
In his younger days Mr. Carroll was one of the most fearless men on the police force. His friends assert he was afraid of nothing and was willing and able to tackle a regiment of "hard guys." Even in his older days he experienced no quakings of fear when he investigated mysterious disturbances in the darkest places in the city's business district.

Retirement of Mr. Carroll places the entire burden of the protection of the downtown district on members of the regular police department. Mr. Carroll asserted when he resigned his position Wednesday night that his greatest regret was that he could not continue indefinitely in the service of the men who had treated him with every consideration in the performance of his duties.

TESTS REVEAL BIG PRODUCERS IN COW TESTING SOCIETY

GRADE HOLSTEIN OWNED BY ED. WARD LOHRENSZ MAKES BEST SHOWING IN EL. LINGTON ASSN.

Big Star, a grade Guernsey cow owned by Edward Lohrenz, lead all the cows in the Ellington Cow Testing association in February by producing 60.5 pounds of butter fat and 1,261 pounds of milk, according to the official record made public by Matthew Nelson, tester. She was fourth in milk production, however. Spot, a grade Holstein owned by Ray Lohrenz was the biggest milk producer with a record of 1,548 pounds in the 29 days of the month. Spot finished second best in butter fat test with a mark of 57.3 pounds. Another grade Holstein, Star, owned by R. C. Burns, broke into the 1,500 pound class, but she finished fifth in butter fat production.

Only 284 of the 389 cows in the Ellington association were submitted to tests in February but the number was greatly increased during March. Nineteen cows succeeded in breaking into the honor section, reserved for bobbies producing forty pounds or more of butter fat.

Great tests are expected of Benton Jan, a pure bred Guernsey owned by Henry Krutzberg. Her record for 23 days in February was 1,006 pounds of milk and 49.3 pounds of butter fat.

Big Star's Ration.
Big Star was given a carefully prepared ration to enable her to lead all the Ellington cows. Her daily ration consisted of 33 pounds of silage, five pounds of hay, two pounds of corn stover and fourteen pounds of the following grain mixture with 1 1/2 pounds of oil meal: 130 pounds of bran, 100 pounds of corn and col meal and 100 pounds of ground oats.

A herd of 11 cows of various breeds owned by Andrew Miskimmin made the best herd record for February with an average production of 710 pounds of milk and 28 pounds of butter fat. The herd of ten Guernseys and Holsteins owned by Ray Lohrenz was second best with an average of 678 pounds of milk and 26.4 pounds of butter fat.
